Dear All:

I would like to personally thank all of the schools that have already joined our cause. It is incredible to witness the extent of our success and the passion and dedication with which our new partners have entered into our enterprise.

In lieu of this, I would like to extend our invitation and call to excellence further. For those schools that have yet to join, I encourage you to take the first step. It is amazing what individuals can accomplish with a common goal. Matt, John, and I were able to make a huge difference just by ourselves, saving residents almost 10 million dollars off their bills and cutting carbon gas emissions by 822 million pounds so far this year. We have seen the effects of our work first hand. We have heard the profuse gratitude and the thank you's. We have heard the exclamations "Now I don't have to use candles anymore!" If the three of us can make such a momentous contribution to reducing energy use in New Jersey, how much of a difference can every New Jersey student make?

The task is simple: contribute to your community. Don't just take, give back as well. Whether you decide to join us, or start you own project, I implore you to take action. Make a contribution. Raise money. Donate items. Promote education. The world can become a better place, but it is up to us to make the change. The world has taken its turn, now it is your move. What can you accomplish?

Sincerely,

Paula Pilipovic
